

The FCC should not implement any proposal that would lessen Indiana's Telephone Privacy law protections.

Since the implementation of Indiana's Privacy Law I have not received a single unwanted telephone call. I work nights, so this has improved my life beyond description. I am afraid that the FCC's lower standards would return me to day after day of interrupted sleep.